

Table with columns for various categories and rows for data entries. The table is a grid with a red header row. The columns are labeled with various codes and the rows contain numerical data. Some cells contain text like 'REDA' or 'REDA'.